

Frenetic Facebook Feedback!

Federico Malaman, internet bass sensation was live posting on several occasions during Sligo Jazz 2016, his estimated total video views could be as many as 100,000, judging from the few examples below, along with some incidental feedback we picked up along the way...

Gradually recovering from having to go back to work after Sligo. Another fantastic week thanks to Eddie Lee and Therese and their team. Special thanks to my bandmates John Philip Murray, Ro Han, Sarah Chaplin, Ross Lorraine, Sarah Douglas, Fraser Gaines and Richard Nelson and to John Goldsby whose calm leadership and discipline (and folder drumming) certainly helped me to raise my game. Also to Mike Walker and Sandro Gibbelini for their inspiring masterclasses - it was great to meet both of you again. And to the folks I played with in the Jam sessions, particularly Frank Mcphail for his composition Subway and Richard Nelson for his country jazz blues (I had to slip the word jazz in somewhere) as well as his immaculate imitation of Van Morrison's band leading style. It was lovely to meet old friends and make new ones - SJP just gets better every year.

Wow ! Adjusting to life without daily double jam sessions & a world class concert! Totally spoiled & inspired by #sjp2016. #bombardedbybrilliance THANK YOU Eddie Lee & Therese for your vision & creating such an amazing festival & your amazing team. Photographers Ita & Lieve Boussauw. The faculty so inspiring, so passionate, dedicated in teaching & playing, so generous, Linley Hamilton, Sara Coleman, Emilia, Frederico Mallaman, John Goldsby, Adam Nussbaum, David Lyttle, Scott Flanigan, Gwyllm Symcock, Paul Clarvis, Cathal Roche, Matthew, Michael Nielsen, Stephen Davis, Steven Rodby.

Liane Carroll - thank u for your beautiful concert.

The Sligo Academy Jazz Orchestra - wow!!

And all the Sligo people for coming out so enthusiastically to support all the gigs and jam sessions!

Privileged to be part of an incredible, unforgettable week at Sligo Jazz! Can't wait til next year !

To give you all an idea of the outstanding quality and quantity of talent we were all immersed in and exposed to last week in Sligo, check out this gorgeous, playful and simply enchanting performance from Emilia Martensson at The Hawk's Well Theatre, Sligo, last Wednesday night. It's one for all you mommies & papas, aunties and uncles out there who are bombarded by questions from the little ones on a daily basis! The other amazing musicians are listed in the video link. Enjoy! Jessica Taylor

Slap back to reality, oops there goes gravity... I'm still floating on Planet Sligo Jazz @sligo2016. A sensational, inspirational, emotional and phenomenally affecting week of music, love and joy. Like all others who were there, I feel a profound need & want to thank Mr. Eddie Lee, the director of the whole festival - which is now in its 11th year, for everything. The vision, the organisation (exceptional!), the selection of tutors and performers, the venues... the execution of it all is and was simply sublime. To all the tutors, especially the two incredible vocal tutors Emilia Martensson and Sara Colman who so generously shared their immense talents, beauty and expertise right through the week with us, again I sincerely thank you. I feel so humbled and motivated to just keep on singing and am committed to being the best musician I can be. Finally, I want to thank Liane Carroll whose musicality, personality and sheer depth of love for both the music she performed and the audience who came and left in awe of her (esp. her stunning duet with Sara) has left me transformed. In fact, that's how the entire festival has left me: transformed and brimming with love and song. Now, where next to share it???
